

Use Case Model

Section description: Provide a brief description of the scope of the use case model

Use Case Sub-section

If you are describing a specific part of a broader domain, provide the information on the sub-section here. For instance, if you are building a complex enterprise-wide system with several actors, use actors as a leading criteria to for creating sub-sections.

Section name :: Page Title

page ?

Page description: Provide a brief description of what kind of information the page is presenting.

Elements of Use Case Models

Example of a Use Case

Actor Description

1 Customer goals: obtain one or more products
Similarly, describe an actor's goals for each actor.

System Description

- 1 E-Commerce Application: A webshop application that consumers use to shop and buy products.
- 2 Payment System: A system for payment that supports multiple type of payments.

Similarly, describe a each system that users will utilize.

Assumptions

Payment systems may utilize 3rd party systems and networks for fulfillment.
Similarly, describe all other assumptions.

Note: This page provides all the necessary elements to create a use case model, and is not intended as an in-depth example of a use case model.

This template uses the Calibri font.

The page setup of this template:

Page Size: A3, Page Layout: Landscape

Download either the free Microsoft Powerpoint 2007 Viewer or the Microsoft Office Compatibility pack to obtain the Calibri font.

