

Section name
Section description: Provide a brief description of what kind of information the section is presenting.

page access Describe how this page will be accessed menu access: user selects File -> New -> New product left-nav access: user selects my Business -> define product toolbar access: user selects  icon keyboard shortcut: user enters "CTRL + N"

Section name :: Page Title page ?
Page description: Provide a brief description of what kind of information the page is presenting.

 User Actions User role/type: Actor type
1 The user selects the option to <describe the action>. The result of this action is provided on page <page number>
2 The user selects the option to <describe the action>. The result of this action is provided on page <page number>

 System Actions System name: Name of the System
1 The system <describe what the system does>. These notations should typically be the result of a user action on another page.
2 The system <describe what the system does>. These notations should typically be the result of a user action on another page.

 Notes
If you need to describe the overall characteristics of the page, what the page will do, do it in this action.
1 Describe specific features of the page here. Describe how a user will use the feature, how the user will interact with it, and how the feature will behave. Example: An inventory manager can find a products they have posted by searching for the names of the products. For instance, entering "ad" will show all the products where the names contain words that start with "ad", such as "advent machine", "advil", "additive", "primary additive agent", etc. It will not show the products where the names have words that contain "ad", but do not have words that start "ad". For instance, it will not show products like for "radar", "caddy bag", "head tennis racquet", etc.
2 Describe specific features of the page here. Describe how a user will use the feature, how the user will interact with it, and how the feature will behave.
 Design Constraint
Though the intent of this document is only provide a functional description without any styling (look and feel information, appearance, etc.), it is sometimes important to provide pointers how the application should be styled. For instance, if you want a "lightbox" or "inset box" rather than a pop-up, specify this here.
3 Describe specific features of the page here. Describe how a user will use the feature, how the user will interact with it, and how the feature will behave. Example: An inventory manager can find a products they have posted by searching for the names of the products. For instance, entering "ad" will show all the products where the names contain words that start with "ad", such as "advent machine", "advil", "additive",

This template uses the Calibri font compressed at 80%.
To modify the font or the compression, go to Format -> Text -> Character Spacing
The page setup of this template:
Page Size: A3, Page Layout: Landscape

Download either the free Microsoft Powerpoint 2007 Viewer or the Microsoft Office Compatibility pack to obtain the Calibri font.

continued on page ---